Texas Solon Hits Ike On Fiscal View

Johnson Attacks Budget Stand By Eisenhower, Aides

By JACK HALL. WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) called on President Eisenhower today to make it clear in a TV-radio address "whether he wants an economy administration or a spending administration."

Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview "the administration is speaking out of both sides of its mouth" on fiscal matters and Eisenhower himself ought to clear the matter up.

Eisenhower goes on the air tomorrow night to defend his $71,800,000,000 spending budget. Democrats are almost certain to ask for equal time to reply, but were reported undecided about their speaker.

Follows Adams' Statement. Johnson's blast was touched off by a comment yesterday by Sherman Adams, chief presidential assistant, that the budget can be cut from 1 1/2 to 2 billion dollars without impairing government efficiency.

Adams, interviewed on a television program by Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), did not specify whether he was referring to Eisenhower's spending budget or the $73,500,000,000 in new appropriations Eisenhower originally asked for the year starting July 1. Eisenhower already has suggested Congress could cut the new money about $1,300,000,000 and mentioned another $500 million it might want to consider deferring until another year.

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) referred to these figures in a weekend statement and said that in addition the administration has agreed not to ask Senate restoration of $15 million dollars cut by the House from money bills already passed. He said that added up to more than two billions already cut, and forecast further reductions.

Keating asked Adams where the administration stands on cutting the budget. "Well," Adams replied, "it's pretty difficult to say just exactly where you are coming out, but I think the magnitude of the cut in the vicinity of a billion and a half to two billion dollars will not interfere with the quality of the services nor the ability of the administration to carry out those services."

Describing Adams as "the very able and very authoritative chief of staff" for the White House, Johnson said this was another example of disagreement within the administration. Eisenhower himself has rejected the possibility of a two billion cut in his spending proposals.

Cites Conflicting Remarks. Johnson listed what he said were conflicting statements on spending by Eisenhower, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Vice President Nixon and others.

Johnson said Congress "will listen carefully to the President's address tomorrow night in the hope that it will settle once and for all just exactly what the administration is recommending."

PITTSBURGH (AP)—When fishermen showed up at North Park Lake yesterday they found that the lake had disappeared.

George McDonough, director of Allegheny County Parks, explained to newsmen what happened.

Workers finally got the gate closed Sunday afternoon.

Four Perish In Turnpike Fiery Crash

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Four members of a Pennsylvania family burned to death shortly before midnight last night after the collision of a Greyhound bus and a station wagon on the Ohio Turnpike four miles west of the Youngstown interchange.

The State Highway Patrol said the station wagon burst into flames after it was struck from the rear by the bus. Both were eastbound.

The dead were identified as Murray Lockard Sr., 45, of Blairsville, Pa.; his wife, Mary Jane, 42; their son, James Maurice, about 14; and a daughter, Elizabeth Jane, about 12. Their identification was not established until more than six hours after the crash.

Officers said the bus driver, whom they identified as Edward Bukosky, 30, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was charged with second-degree manslaughter. They said he was unable to give a suitable explanation for the collision.

The station wagon was knocked more than 800 feet down the road by the impact but remained upright, police said.

A few of the 40 passengers on the bus—which was bound for Pittsburgh from Cleveland—were shaken up but none required hospital treatment, the patrol said.

Both eastbound lanes of the road were blocked temporarily, but one lane was opened to traffic a few minutes after the crash.

G-Men Report Pair Held In Bank Holdup

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has disclosed the arrest in Tucson, Ariz., of a man and woman charged with the $25,000 robbery of the National Bank of Arcadia in Adams County, Pa., last Nov. 7.

Carl E. Hennrich, special agent in charge of the FBI's Philadelphia office, said James N. Keller, 30, and Doris Jean Henderson, 19, were in Pima County Jail, Tucson, charged with the theft of an automobile.

Hennrich said the pair was arrested Friday at a trailer camp in Tucson where they were living as man and wife under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson. They did not resist arrest although a sawed off .300 savage rifle was found in their possession, Hennrich said.

The auto theft involved a car owned by the Warren Sales Co., Straband Twp., Adams County. The car was taken from Pennsylvania to Virginia, the FBI said.

Hennrich said the bank robbery charges were filed by the FBI on the authorization of U.S. Atty. Robert J. Hourigan, middle district of Pennsylvania, before U. S. Commissioner Edwin D. Strile, at Chambersburg, Pa.

Texas Creeks Ravage City, Damage High

LAMPASAS, Tex. (AP)—A wall of water cascaded into this central Texas city today when a levee broke under the strain of two rain-swollen creeks.

The entire business district was flooded, between 50 and 100 homes were knocked off their foundations and hundreds of persons were homeless. Red Cross disaster headquarters were established.

The surging waters of Burleson and Sulphur creeks swept into the city's business district last night after torrential rains up to 6.30 inches soaked the area, some 50 miles west of Temple. Later they began to recede as the rain let up.

Destruction was expected to run into millions of dollars. Ward Lowe, publisher of the Lampasas Dispatch, said one person was known to have drowned. Another woman was missing after she was washed off a truck to which she had been clinging. All power was knocked out. Telephone lines were out except for one emergency phone.

The sheriff's office and fire department were inundated and water ran four and five feet deep in the town square.

A fire broke out at a rambling two-story produce plant and took emergency workers away from flood duty. The firemen had to wade through waist-deep water. Plate glass windows, furniture and debris swirled into the city streets.

Some 30 to 35 persons were trapped in the downtown area.

Building Strike Settlement Seen

BALTIMORE (AP)—A six-week construction workers strike in the Baltimore area appeared all but over as builders and union officials said they expected most men back on the job today.

At the peak of the walkout 9,000 workmen were off the job, tying up industrial, school, and church jobs.

"As far as we're concerned the strike is over," said Edward E. Eyring, head of the Associated General Contractors.

Business Men Face Rackets Probe Quiz

Trailer Firm Head To Tell Of 'Demands'

Beck's Financial Maneuvers Due To Receive An Airing

By G. MILTON KELLY. WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate racketeers probe today to what they called Dave Beck's "demands" for favors from two businessmen through whom he channeled Teamsters Union funds.

Summoned as witnesses were Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit, and A. M. Burke, head of the mortgage loan department of the Occidental Insurance Co. of Los Angeles.

Loan Was Repaid

The committee already has heard evidence that Beck lent 1 1/2 million dollars of Teamster funds to the Fruehauf Foundation when Fruehauf needed more capital to cope with a proxy fight. The loan since has been repaid with interest.

Other witnesses have said that Beck later called on Fruehauf to arrange for a $200,000 loan to Beck personally from the Brown Equipment Co.

This was at a time when the Internal Revenue Service was looking into Beck's income tax returns and when, the committee contends, Beck began repaying with borrowed funds $320,000 it says he had misappropriated to his own use.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said Fruehauf would be asked about this and what he called "other demands" by Beck after Beck had authorized the big Teamster loan.

Will Air 'Demands'

He said Burke will be asked about reports concerning "demands" from Beck after the Teamsters Union had placed a million dollars worth of insurance with Occidental. The committee has heard testimony that Occidental agreed to buy $50,000 worth of mortgages a month through the National Mortgage Co., a Seattle firm in which the committee contends Beck held a financial interest.

The committee said the summoning of Fruehauf and Burke "should not be interpreted as meaning that necessarily there was any wrongdoing on their part."

College Youth Held For Food Poisoning

PLATTE CITY, Mo. (AP)—An 18-year-old scholarship student at Park College has been charged with mixing arsenic in food eaten by a school nurse and two teachers.

"I think someone's after me," said Hubert McKinley Fulkerson Jr., of Muskogee, Okla., after his arraignment yesterday. "There is evidence pointing to me because I had access to arsenic in the chemistry laboratory."

The victims, Luella Matthews, Jon Porter and Shirley Flint, were reported in good condition at Waverly Medical Center on the campus. They became ill Thursday after eating luncheon at the center.

Mrs. Matthews is a nurse. Miss Porter is from Greenfield, Mo., and Miss Flint from Dow, Iowa. Fulkerson was taken to Neurological Hospital in Kansas City shortly after they became ill. He was arrested yesterday and arraigned before Platte County Magistrate John Yeaman. No plea was entered and he was taken to the county jail.

Preliminary hearing was set for tomorrow to allow the youth's parents time to engage an attorney.

The campus already was jittery over six fires last week when the poisonings became known. Dr. Robert E. Long, president of the college, said the fires were set.

Authorities said Saturday a youth was being questioned about both the poisonings and the fires.

Fulkerson, a freshman at Park, was an honor student at Muskogee Central High School. His specialty is physics. Officials said he had no previous record.

Dr. Long said Fulkerson suffered a head injury about 18 months ago when he was hit by a baseball and has blacked out three times at school.

Jordan King Raps Soviet, Claims Plot

Meeting Scheduled By Saud, Faisal And Hussein In Baghdad

By ANGELO NATALE. BAGHDAD (AP)—Reports mount today that the Arab world's three leading anti-Communist kings will meet this week in Iraq.

Diplomatic sources said King Hussein of Jordan would join King Saud of Saudi Arabia and Faisal of Iraq, possibly Thursday, for their first joint talks since the 21-year-old Jordanian ousted leftist and pro-Egyptian forces from control of his government.

The sources said the conference would be in Baghdad, where Saud is visiting; or at Habbaniyah, site of a British military and air base 45 miles west of Baghdad.

Dissension Is Evident

In Amman, Hussein's capital, there was renewed evidence of dissension in the Egyptian-led Arab bloc. But here in Baghdad, where the kings of Saudi Arabia and Iraq were already meeting, it was reported King Saud was trying to smooth relations between this pro-Western country and Egypt.

Qualified sources said Hussein's arrival while Saud is still here would further bolster the plans of Iraqi Premier Nuri Said for a stronger bond between the three Arab kingdoms.

Saud, the traditional enemy of the Hashemite family ruling Iraq and Jordan, arrived Saturday. He kissed checks fraternally with Iraq's 22-year-old King Faisal, Hussein's cousin. Negotiations got under way yesterday on an unlimited Iraq-Saudi Arabia trade agreement.

The report Saud was attempting to smooth Iraq-Egypt relations lent support to speculation members of the Arab bloc would try to avoid an open breach despite their differing feelings about communism, the West and the Soviet Union. King Saud, although nominally an ally of Syria and Egypt, joined Faisal last month in backing Hussein against the extremists egged on by Cairo and Damascus.

Iraq's membership with Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain in the Baghdad Pact against communism is a major sore spot in Iraq-Egypt relations. Egypt's President Nasser advocates a policy of what he calls "positive neutralism" between East and West but has made his country dependent on the Soviet bloc for arms supplies and much trade.

The official Jordan radio Saturday night accused Egypt and Syria of joining the Soviet Union in a conspiracy "prepared by agents of international communism" to overthrow the rulers of Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Libya.

Blames Red Plotting. Hussein had blamed a plot by international communism against his monarchy when he proclaimed martial law at the height of the political turmoil in his country last month. The purported details were printed in the independent Amman newspaper Al-Urdun and stamped with official stamps.

Freedom Walk To Washington Begun By Pastor

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—A 21-year-old Negro clergyman walks today on a road he hopes will end in equal rights for his people.

The Rev. Milton Perry, pastor of the Deliverance Temple Church here, began a 20-mile walk to Washington yesterday in an effort to persuade Congress to pass civil rights legislation.

Some 30 members of his congregation gathered outside the church to watch their pastor, wearing his minister's robe and hiking shoes and carrying only a Bible, embark on his "pilgrimage for freedom."

Shanahan has not been charged. Police Capt. Julian I. Forrest said the guard at the hospital was established as a result of the investigation. A blood-stained kitchen knife was held in evidence.

Officers said a telephone call from a man led to discovery of the children's bodies. The tragedy apparently followed domestic difficulties, police said.

Shanahan moved here with his family in January from Matawan, N.J.

West Va. Miner Saved, Was Trapped 72 Hours

RICHWOOD, W. Va.—"I could see the slate falling like big hunks of paper with black dust pouring up and I said, 'Lord, nobody can stop it but you. If you don't, I'm a goner.'"

That was William C. Richmond talking, telling how it feels to be buried alive for 72 hours in a cold, lightless coal mine of central West Virginia.

Rejected Suitor Uses Grenade To Kill Girl, Self

TAIPEI (AP)—Fu Lin-sheng, 38, decided to renew a marriage proposal which had been turned down.

He hoped for bride, Sung Ching, and her father would not let him into the house in the village of San Hsia, near Taipei.

"It's no use wasting your time," said the father. "My daughter won't marry you."

Fu replied by pulling the pin on a hand grenade. He and the girl were killed and her father had a leg blown off.

Attorney To Ask Costello Freed

NEW YORK (AP)—Renewed efforts were to be made today to free gambler Frank Costello from Rikers Island Penitentiary, a New York City prison.

His attorney, Morris Shilensky, was to ask Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan Jr., to release Costello on bail pending appeal of his 30-day contempt sentence.

JAMESTOWN, Va. (AP)—British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia reminded an American audience here today that it was the British who started the whole thing at Jamestown and said his countrymen are determined "never to admit defeat, either in war or peace."

Young Mother Gets Title As Mrs. America

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Forty-eight of the nation's leading homemakers were to meet today at a breakfast and pay tribute to the new Mrs. America, a statuesque brunette from Arlington, Va.

Mrs. Linwood Findley, who represented the District of Columbia, was crowned Saturday night in the climactic event of a weeklong series of competitions in cooking, sewing, ironing and housekeeping with housewives from 48 states.

Mrs. Findley, 32 and the mother of four children, is the wife of Lt. Col. Harry Findley, executive officer at the Armed Forces Industrial College in Washington.

Mrs. Findley, the former Miss Linwood Giscard, is a native of Donaldsonville, La., and was Maid of Cotton in 1944, the same year she graduated from Louisiana State University, where she majored in home economics and nutrition.

Her husband served her breakfast in bed yesterday but the new Mrs. America was up in time to attend Park Temple Methodist church.

"I have too much to be thankful for on this Mother's Day to let anything keep me from saying thanks in church," she said.

Contestants will display their theatrical and musical talents at a farewell party tonight and leave for home tomorrow.

However, Mrs. Findley and her husband will remain here for two weeks, enjoying a vacation. Her prizes include a 1957 automobile, household appliances, a $500 wardrobe, a silver service and $100 in U.S. savings bonds.

The French are credited with inventing the first bicycle.

Ike, Monty Cite Leaders' Blunders At Gettysburg

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

GETTYSBURG, Pa.—"Ike" and "Monty" say they'd have done a lot of things differently than Lee and Meade if they'd been in command at the Battle of Gettysburg.

After prowling around the famed Civil War battleground, President Eisenhower and British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery agreed both Confederate and Union commanders blundered in the 1863 engagement, and should have been fired.

The two World War II commanders, who led Allied forces to victory over the Nazis, second-guessed Southern Gen. Robert E. Lee and Northern Gen. George G. Meade during Montgomery's weekend stay at the Eisenhower farm, on the edge of the battlefield.

The old friends reached another parting today. Eisenhower planned to stay on at his farm through dinner time. Montgomery, now deputy commander of NATO forces in Europe, was due back in Washington for conferences at the Pentagon.

In sum, Eisenhower and Montgomery agreed both sides could have used their cavalry more effectively, that Southern forces should have tried an end run around the North's left flank, and that the charge of Gen. George Pickett's brigade into the muzzles of Yankee cannon was a grave mistake.

Montgomery called that charge "monstrous."

But Eisenhower wasn't joining Montgomery in pronouncing Lee a worse commander at Gettysburg than Meade.

Montgomery can talk about it, Eisenhower said, but "look, I live here. I represent both the North and the South."

From the South came at least one indignant protest and a de-

Girl, 16, Ends 21-Day Fast, Drank Juices

FORT OGLETHORPE, Ga. (AP)—Evelyn Jenkins, a pretty 16-year-old, ended 21 days of fasting "for the glory of God" last night.

The gray-eyed brunette said she has taken only occasional drinks of fruit juices and water since April 22.

She said she will drink fruit juice every four hours at first and begin eating soft food three or four days from now.

Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jenkins of Cartersville, Ga., came here last fall to live with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Maddox.

She dropped out of high school when she started the fast. Since then she has spent most of her time between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the woods near her home reading the Bible and praying.

She said yesterday she believes her weight has not dropped much below 120. She weighed 130 when she began her fast.

to get busy. He said much of Eisenhower's program has been "lagging" in the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"We think it is high time in the interests of the American people the Congress ought to devote itself to picking up this program and doing something about it," he said.

Adams was asked if Eisenhower was going to "fight as hard as he can" for his budget and for his legislative program.

"Well, Adams replied, 'he will devote his full energies toward seeing to it that those programs are carried out in every possible way that he can.'"

Billy Mitchell To Get Retrial On Old Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billy Mitchell's name may yet be cleared by the separate Air Force on behalf of which the Army convicted him of insubordination.

The Air Force announced last night that the former Army brigadier general, who died 21 years ago, will be given a retrial this week of the charges against him.

The closed hearing will be before the Air Force Board for Correction of Military Records. The board's recommendation would go to Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas, who would have authority, if he chose, to toss out the court-martial conviction returned by nine Army generals in 1923.

After serving as Air Force commander during World War I, Mitchell spoke out sharply, and publicly, in the postwar years, charging incompetency and inefficiency in the Army and Navy air services. Among other things, he called for a separate air force, which was established after World War II.

But at the time he was arguing, most military men disagreed with his views. He was charged and convicted not for the views he held but for advocating them publicly.

After his conviction on insubordination charges, he chose to resign rather than be suspended from his Army rank.

A formal request for a review was filed by Mitchell's son William Mitchell Jr. The son presumably will appear before the board to plead in his father's behalf.

A spokesman said the board also could consider any errors of record, and the emotional climate of the period in which Mitchell was tried.

Federal Aid

A FEW YEARS AGO sentiment for some sort of federal aid to education seemed widespread in this country. Now in many places substantial pockets of resistance have developed. In the past decade, various federal aid programs have foundered again and again on the rocks of special opposition to particular features. This year some of that kind of protest is still felt. But in addition there appears to be a certain disenchantment with the whole idea of federal aid. Naturally the lawmakers are feeling this as they hear from the Middle West and other sections where opposition apparently is strongest. And it is today a widely observed fact that any education aid program has very little prospect of passage in this Congress.

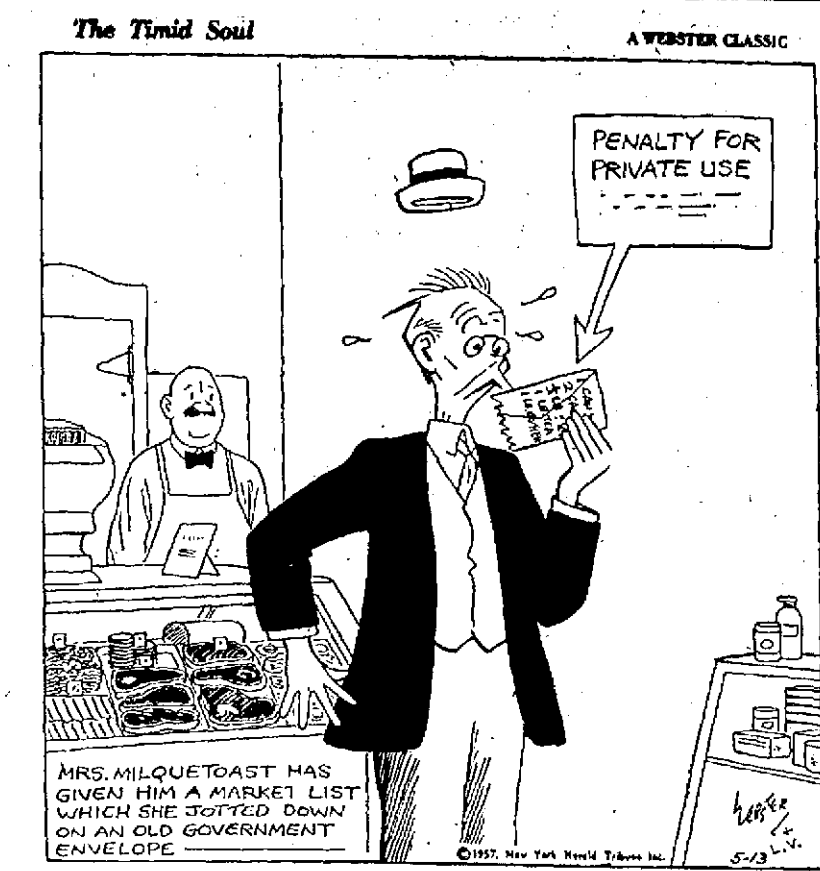

IRONICALLY, this surge of protest comes at a time when the Eisenhower administration insists the need for federal help is greater than ever. The President named a group to survey the situation, and its report asserted that shortages of school space, equipment and teachers were critical and growing worse. Many lawmakers and countless citizens plainly are not persuaded. Some don't want to see the government spend the money, but the economy-minded have been battling this program from the outset. Others, likewise in evidence from the beginning, fear federal funds spell government control of education. This time there is something more. Lots of people do not seem to believe there is a real need for federal aid, despite swelling school populations and persistent reports of various shortages.

THEY BELIEVE that the burden not only belongs upon state and local governments, but can actually be borne by them if they are confronted with the iron-bound necessity of digging up the money. The real capacity of the states and cities to bear this load ought to be capable of reasonable measurement. If it is in fact sufficient for the purpose in most or all areas, then obviously federal aid is a dead letter. If it is not, then it would appear incumbent upon the opponents of federal aid to education to demonstrate how we are to provide adequate schooling for the millions of young Americans who will be our citizens and leaders in the crowded times ahead.

Why Rates Rise

IF YOU WONDER what's behind the move when your insurance rates go up as they frequently do these days, you don't have to look far for the answer. Accidents are mounting both in number and cost. Last year they cost Americans some 11 billion dollars, with about half that sum resulting from automobile mishaps. And some of the 1956 bills still haven't been paid. Some insurance companies, and especially fire and casualty companies, suffer stiff losses when heavy claims are presented in great volume. Their profits dwindle and they may wind up in the red. When this happens, with the approval of the various state insurance commissioners, the companies in general figure out new insurance rates to cover probable future losses and give them a reasonable profit. Since they are serving an expanding nation, they must expand to meet the country's insurance needs, and this takes capital. They can't attract it if their earnings are poor. Some idea of what's going on can be gained from a quick look at one phase of the problem—rising automobile repair costs. They rose 15 per cent in the year 1953-56 and are up another seven per cent on 1957 car models. In 1948 you could repair a typical damaged rear fender for $25.75. On a 1957 model it will cost you $156.50. A broken windshield in 1948 could be fixed for $15.90. Today a plain one costs $107 and a tinted job $123.75. Put together costs like these with the 1956 figure of 10 million motor accidents and you have quite a story. And it tends to take the mystery out of rising insurance rates.

A MAN HIGH in the electrical industry says it is a mistake to assume electric power may eventually be "dirt cheap." In fact it looks as though use of that time-honored designation for the price of just about anything is gone forever.

"All Debtors Poor" Held Outmoded Theory

NEW YORK—President Truman helped to give currency to an ancient fallacy when he charged that the Eisenhower Administration's "tight money" and "high interest rates" policies transfer income "from the poor who need it to the rich who don't."

With its vast middle class and its huge segments of manual workers and farmers with high living standards, the contemporary national economy of the U.S.A. does not lend itself readily to Marxian mid-19th Century categories.

It's in the spirit of outmoded Marxian theory to set the poor against the rich. Marx and Engels, it will be recalled, in the Communist Manifesto called upon the workers of the world to unite, arguing, "You have nothing to lose but your chains."

With more than 52,000,000 motor cars in use, 115,000,000 Americans owning life insurance policies, and tens of millions owning their homes, 74,500,000 depositors in savings accounts and more than 8,500,000 owning corporate shares, it is obviously not true in the United States in 1957 that workingmen have nothing to lose but their chains.

IF MR. TRUMAN believes that he is carrying the banner for great multitudes of impecunious debtors in a combat against a small elite of well-to-do creditors, he is indeed confused.

For an objective appraisal of the realities discloses that you can count the creditors, the direct and indirect receivers of interest payments, in the tens of millions. Not by any common word usage are all these creditors rich.

By the same token, it is a gross distortion of the facts to assume that all the debtors—all those who pay interest—are poor. These debtors include all of the giant corporations with bonds and notes outstanding, and with lines of credit at the commercial banks.

In addition, it is not infrequent for individuals of substantial wealth to use borrowed funds to carry out business ventures or to stretch their capacity to make speculative commitments.

Demagoguery to the contrary notwithstanding, the creditor group in the United States—those who are receivers of interest payments—is immense in size and touches virtually every self-supporting family.

In addition to the life insurance policyholders and savings depositors, there are some 21,100,000 savers who own shares in savings and loan associations, two million individual owners of mortgages, 2 1/2 million postal savings depositors, nine million depositors in credit unions, 14,300,000 individual participants in non-insured pension plans operated under corporate or government auspices.

ALSO virtually the whole working force has a stake in the old age and survivorship annuities under the Social Security Act, whose accumulated trust fund earns interest.

Of the outstanding marketable U. S. government bonds held by others than financial institutions is a total of some $65,000,000,000 of Federal debt owned either directly by individuals or indirectly through corporations, of which they are shareholders.

To be utterly candid, many ordinary citizens are at one and the same time both creditors and debtors.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—There is nothing exactly like hoisting one's self to one's feet on a pleasant, moonlit early-summer-late spring night in the country and driving into a hot, crowded city.

But because you feel the necessity of doing so, you do this, and half-way to town you suddenly remember you would have had to do it, anyway, because your bride, who has been playing Ariel in "The Tempest" at the theatre in the Library of Congress, is flying in at 1:30 a. m. and you had an assignment to meet her at the airport.

YOU PASS THE airport on the way in, which is precisely what caused you to remember, and with a chill running through you you wonder what would have happened if you had not remembered and your flame-thatched bride had arrived in a sleepy airport at 1:30 with no one to meet her.

For all you know, she might have torn the place loose from its foundations. Or she might merely have gone to a pay phone, dialed home and said, in a voice of dubious sweetness: "Just wanted to know if you were sleeping well, dear. I'm here at the airport having the most divine time."

SO YOU continue into town and the first person you see is an old carnival hand named Boab Bunker (and that's not made up) who has nothing to contribute except the information that on a certain page in the Manhattan telephone directory, in the M's, someone seems to be having a good, if naughty, time with the telephone company because the name of the supposed subscriber is a horribly audacious French phrase.

Mr. Bunker wanders on his quiet way and you, a country boy from way back with a knob of curiosity the size of a watermelon, dart into a drugstore, find the Manhattan directory and look on the described page. It's there, all right. You can only think that the boys and girls at the company (a) have never been to France and (b) are naive.

LEAVING this project, you walk out into the night and see the editor of a certain magazine of repute. He has articles on his mind and he says: "Would you think, if you know him, that Sydney Chaplin would do a blunt, hard-talking article on his father?" and you say, "No, and I do know him, I don't think he would. He happens to like his father and his father has been a good father to him at all times."

So, still muttering his way into an idea for some articles, he

Assignment: America

NEW YORK—Cecil B. De Mille was pacing the floor—not in the manner of the businessman emulating the caged tiger, nor in the mode of the ham doing Hamlet—but like Cecil B. De Mille contemplating the world.

Suddenly, abruptly, he stopped. "Religion," he said, "isn't a book, not even the Bible. It's a soul and an understanding of a supreme being."

THE 73-YEAR-OLD master of spectaculars looked long and respectfully at a battered Bible on his hotel room coffee table. (He did not wear glasses and he did not squint. "I read that this morning after breakfast—at always read it at night," he said. "Religion isn't a book, but that book is the foundation of the understanding.")

And the boost to the soul. What Mr. De Mille has to say—and says, in no uncertain terms—is that religion is the salvation of the world, and a good old-fashioned Bible-reading session is what the American family needs most to establish as a parlor ritual. An unstopped elderly man, with a face that fluctuates abruptly between kindness and sternness, he makes you feel a somewhat wayward soul if you have not read your Good Book recently.

"I WOULD suggest," he stated firmly, "that those who have not read the Bible begin by reading the first five books of the Old Testament—which dramatize the laws of God—and then read the first four books of the New Testament—which interpret the laws."

They might well also, he added, see a film he's turned out called "The Ten Commandments." When I admitted I hadn't seen this saga that cost $15,000,000 and ten years to make, he had appeared immediately to doubt my good faith, if not sanity.

IF DE MILLE talks more like a minister than a movie mogul, it's because that's the way he feels. At least in this stage of his career. Cecil is the son of an Episcopal lay reader, who was convinced by his wife to take up playwriting "because the message reaches only hundreds in church, but thousands in the theatre." He now recalls that as a child, "the Bible characters were

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—The people's choice for Blondo of the Year seems to be Julie Wilson this season.

And a thousand show world comrades who know the years of struggle and failure that lie behind this tall, breezy Nebraska singer are almost as proud of her success.

"You bump your head against every wall in the world," she muses. "You milk your own blood trying to create something new and fresh—and nothing works."

"Then suddenly everything you did that was wrong turns out to be right. You have what they're looking for, and you never are quite sure yourself what caused the change."

JULIE NOW IS a top-drawing supper club performer, making a record eighth appearance at the St. Regis. She is starred in two current movies, "The Strange One" and "This Could Be the Night."

But Julie, whose salary has climbed from $50 a week to $3,500, hasn't forgotten the days when a run in her pajamas was a major financial catastrophe. Those were the days when, as a stagestruck teenager from Omaha, she ran into more blind alleys than a mouse in a maze.

"I flopped at everything I tried," she recalled. "I was a Powers model, but I couldn't get any work. My hips were too big."

"I did all right in the chorus line, but when I tried to sing, they told me I couldn't. I landed a job with a band, and in two weeks they fired me. I made two film tests, flopped both."

Julie really did have a voice. She just didn't quite know then how to use it to put a song over. And in the process of learning she had to sing in some joints where she wouldn't be seen herself as a customer.

THE TURNING point came in 1943 during a last trial—in her own mind—engagement at the Mocambo in Hollywood.

"Suddenly everything was right, and I still don't know why," she said. "But from that night on I never looked back."

She starred in London in "Kiss Me Kate" and "South Pacific," then won Broadway leads in "Kismet" and "The Pajama Game."

During her stay in London, Julie quit for a full year to study acting at the Royal Academy. Despite her present star status, she spends six to eight hours a day in singing, dancing and acting lessons.

"When you quit learning," she said, "you soon quit earning."

She says she doesn't know what to answer now when kids come to her and ask, "What should I do, Julie? Mama doesn't want me to go into show business."

Julie's speckled green eyes grew reflective.

"What can I tell them?" she said. "A hundred people gave me help when I needed it. Where would any of us be without friends? But in the end you have to make up your own mind—and find your own way."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—Former Rep. Lyle H. Boren, of Oklahoma, returned to Washington for a visit the other day and reported that the change from drought to flood came so suddenly down his way that farmers are having to use rowboats to get to the mail boxes to pick up their drought relief checks.

Anybody who has been a Member of Congress for more than a fortnight will tell you he isn't influenced too much by sudden floods of mail on a particular subject because he has learned how easily mail campaigns can be organized. But nevertheless most Congressmen have a reluctant faith in the efficacy of mail pressure.

THE OTHER DAY, for instance, Senator Homer Capehart, of Indiana, started talking about recent postal assaults on Congress and expressed the opinion that they were probably organized. Then he switched to a judgeship fight that he is having with his Junior Senator, Bill Jenner. Capehart is strong for John Hastings, president of the Board of Trustees of Indiana University, for U. S. Circuit Judge. Jenner had hoped to get the post for U. S. District Judge Luther Swigart.

The White House named Capehart's candidate, but there was delay about getting the nomination past the Senate Judiciary Committee. Jenner is a member of the committee, but Capehart wouldn't go so far as to say there was anything more to this than coincidence.

While we were battling the theme around, Capehart received a phone call from a Hastings supporter in Indiana, asking what could be done to expedite the appointment.

"I'll tell you one thing you can do," replied the lawmaker who doesn't think much of mail pressure upon lawmakers. "You can write a lot of letters in. They always help."

INCIDENTALLY, Senator Capehart thinks Senator Jenner is going to have a tough fight for reelection next year. This even it up. Jenner predicted the defeat of Capehart last November.

Capehart won by 220,000 votes. Jenner prophesied he'd lose by 250,000. Jenner's fond hope now is that Capehart will turn out to be as good a prophet as he was.

ALED P. DAVIS, Washington representative of the American Meat Institute, came into the National Press Club dining room the other day and speedily became the center of attention. He plunked himself heavily at a table, hooked a napkin into his shirt, and reached into his coat pocket. He pulled forth a large package of sliced ham in cellophane wrapping, and slapped it on his plate. Satisfied that he had captured his audience, he held forth:

"In England and Holland they stun hogs before killing them with an electric shock. Various humane societies are pressuring the U. S. Department of Agriculture to insist upon the same thing over here. But Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson won't go for it—and I'll show you why."

"When a hog is shocked, his ham is apt to develop spots. This is a slice of imported Dutch ham. It is full of spots."

As ill-conceived would have it, the Press Club had listed imported Holland ham on the menu that day. Thanks to the lecturer from the Meat Institute, it was stuck with most of it.

Trio Of Youths Facing Charges

West Virginia State Police have turned over three Baltimore youths to Maryland authorities for action on charges of stealing a car and wrecking it near Burlington last Thursday.

Trooper C. E. Dorsey of the Remmy detachment of the West Virginia State Police said the three, ranging in ages from 14 to 17, were apprehended shortly after the accident. They were taken back to Baltimore to face charges there in the theft of the car.

Police said the boys admitted stealing the automobile from Edward D. Niestedt of 4 Morris Court, Baltimore.

Trooper Dorsey and Trooper R. B. Noechel of Keyser, said the driver apparently fell asleep and smashed into an embankment near Burlington. The boys ran, but were apprehended near Dave Becker's airport, two miles from the scene of the accident. They were taken to Keyser and confined in Mineral county jail until turned over to Maryland police.

Judge, Irked By Speeders, To Get Tough

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—Municipal Judge James A. McWhorter announced today he is lowering the boom on speed crazy motorists from now on.

"He said that jail sentences, in addition to stiff fines, await drivers where evidence is shown that they have been engaged in a race with other motorists."

"I'm tremendously disturbed over the Kanawha City race between two cars in which police say speeds of 100 miles per hour were attained," he said.

The judge referred to a spectacular crash in which one man was thrown from his car and dragged for 90 feet after Motor-cycle Patrolman Russell Adkins gave chase to two cars. Adkins said his own speedometer registered between 85 and 100 miles per hour. He arrested both drivers.

Other Changes
The judge announced other major changes in his policy of handling moving traffic violations, such as speeding, reckless driving, running stop signs, running stop lights and drunken driving. They are these:

(1) Cash bonds are increased for each of these offenses.

(2) No continuances will be granted to defendant to allow him to pay his fine. He will be remanded to jail until his fine is taken care of.

(3) Posting cash bonds will not necessarily mean the end of the case, particularly in ones involving speeding. Bonds will be forfeited, but the judge reserves the right to issue capiases. Jail sentences may then result when the defendant is haled into court.

(4) The judge is turning a deaf ear to pleas from motorists who say they can't afford a fine.

"I take the view that anyone, a college student, a teenager, or otherwise, who owns and operates a vehicle must of necessity be able to bear the burden of a fine," he said. "Either that, or he should get rid of his car."

Many motorists, especially younger drivers, have begged off fines by pleading hardships. Others have asked for "credit" or time to pay fines. The judge said today in regard to these cases, "no more."

Referring to jail sentences, McWhorter said "I'm of the disposition where any evidence of a case is shown, to impose a jail sentence in addition to a fine. Some offenders will be disappointed to learn that these offenses may carry a jail term, but this court has the authority to impose fines up to $100 and jail terms of 30 days for moving traffic violations."

Fines Increased
Cash bonds for running stop signs will be raised immediately from $7 to $12; for running red lights from $12 to $17; for speeding from $17 to $27; for reckless driving from $25 to $52; and $500 real estate bond will still be required for drunk driving arrests.

"But I do not intend to let motorists, in cases involving excessive speed, to avoid court appearance by forfeiting their bond," he said. "In such cases, they will be brought to court and a jail sentence may result."

The judge said his orders go into effect immediately and their publication will constitute "fair warning" to drivers.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Problem of pregnancy outside marriage can be solved by experienced matrons.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I write in the hope that my story may help and encourage the dependent girl (in her late twenties) who wrote you recently, asking for a way out of her "unfortunate" situation. Unmarried and pregnant, she has thought of killing herself, she says, to spare her family embarrassment.

I, too, once faced the same problem, and finally my parents had to know. They were compassionate and helpful and I went to a Florence Crittenton Home to await the birth of my child. I was given the finest medical care and treated not as an outcast, but as a human being who had made a mistake.

The social workers are understanding and always ready to listen to your worries and answer your questions. Your identity is kept confidential; others know you by your first name only. As I felt it would be unfair to my baby to keep him, I arranged for his adoption, and he was given to very carefully selected parents.

Married Happily Due To Guidance

Since then, I have married very happily. And I feel if it weren't for the excellent guidance that I was given at the Florence Crittenton Home, I never would have been able to marry my husband — who knows of my mistake, and understands, and forgives me.

So, my experience indicates that the problem can be solved; it needn't fall into a depression. Don't feel too sorry for yourself; remember that God forgives; and that life isn't over because of this transgression. Make it a turning point for the better.

Salvation Army First To Rescue

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In your recent exchange with an audience, you failed to mention the Salvation Army Booth Memorial

Homes and Hospitals for Unwed Mothers — of which there are 13 in the United States, and one in Honolulu.

In the year 1887, in Oakland, California, the social service department of the Salvation Army established the first home for unwed mothers in the United States — the Booth Memorial Home and Hospital. It has been at the present location for the past 34 years, at 2794 Garden Street, Oakland, California.

The door is open to any girl in need — regardless of age, creed, color, race or financial circumstance, and without any geographical limitations. The home affords social concealment and best possible medical care, warm understanding, and help towards finding a new way of life, and courage to face the future. Please transmit this information to your readers. — J. J.

She, Too, Plugs Salvation Army

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am wondering why you never recommend one of the Salvation Army Hospitals for pregnant unmarried girls? You always tell them to go to a Florence Crittenton Home, or some other agency.

The Salvation Army has some of the best maternity homes. I know, because I was helped by one. The medical care is the best. I had the care and consideration I needed. I was wonderful. Do you have something against this splendid organization? — S. G.

Available Help Gets Mentioned

DEAR S. G.: There is no prejudice against any benevolent organization not mentioned here. But in suggesting possible sources of professional help for girls in trouble, it is necessary to consider what agencies are accessible to the plaintiff. Also, we try to provide information that may be useful to the overall audience.

And, as it happens, the Florence Crittenton Homes Association virtually blankets the nation —with a network of more than 50 homes, hospitals and shelter services — whereas the Salvation Army has but 13 such "hospices" in the United States (according to J. J.'s letter above).

Thus, in assessing the social services of a community from which a girl has written, we usually find a Crittenton service either in the vicinity, or within travel distance; or, as an alternative, a Family Service unit. And for this common sense reason, these agencies are mentioned time and again, as facts require. — M. H.

D'Alessandro Hits Filthy Literature On News Stands

HAGERSTOWN — "Filthy literature on the newsstands is a menace to the youth of our country," Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro said yesterday in an address to 200 members of the Holy Name Society.

D'Alessandro suggested that news dealers "forget the dollar and get rid of the literature that is making juvenile delinquents out of our children."

He commended the society, an organization of Catholic men, and said its "efforts in the past deserve the thanks of all parents."

In Baltimore County, former senator and one-time governor Herbert R. O'Connor addressed a meeting of the Holy Name Society at a communion breakfast. He said he believed it would be prudent to "give economic aid to Poland in our nation's efforts to attain success in the cold war."

Every Video Star Needs Topflight Supporting Cast

By CHARLES MERCEN

NEW YORK (U)—In television a star is always the focus of attention. But who pays much heed to the members of the band or the chorus?

But they are accomplished artists or performers too. Here is one of the hundreds who are seldom if ever mentioned.

His name is Fred Wilkins. He plays the flute in Howard Barlow's orchestra. Wilkins leads a busy life.

Today, for example, he leaves the Queens apartment where he lives with his wife and 10-year-old daughter and comes to Manhattan where he teaches until noon. Then he reports for a full afternoon of rehearsal with the orchestra.

Wilkins grew up in Alameda, Calif. He feels that his biggest break was obtaining a scholarship to the Juillard School of Music in 1930. There followed five consecutive Chataqua scholarships in the flute.

When Barlow's orchestra plays on television you may sometimes hear only a few notes of Wilkins' flute. But don't forget that behind those few notes lies a lifetime of practice and devotion to an art.

Nicholas Monsarrat, the novelist, has dropped a note to the producers of "Climax" (CBS-TV) praising the script of "Bait for the Tiger" which will be presented next Thursday. The TV drama is based on Monsarrat's novel, "Castle Carac."

"It's good to see it in something like its original form," he said.

Youth Injured By Rifle Fire

A .22 calibre rifle bullet was accidentally discharged yesterday afternoon and Robert Gilbert Hausman, 16, of 26 Utah Avenue, was struck in the right arm by the bullet. He was treated at Memorial Hospital.

Trooper J. W. Lewis of the Maryland State Police said Hausman was hit above the right elbow by the .22 calibre bullet while target shooting with Joseph Michael Wagner, 15, of 30 Memorial Avenue.

Hausman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hausman, sustained the superficial wound shortly before 3 p.m. when the rifle discharged as Wagner turned toward his companion while holding the weapon.

The two had been shooting along the Potomac River about one mile south of Cumberland. Trooper Lewis stated.

Attendants at Memorial Hospital said X-rays were taken of the arm wound and the youth was released after treatment.

Truck Crash On Mountain Kills Driver

A tractor-trailer heavily loaded with lumber crashed yesterday morning on the west slope of Town Hill mountain and the driver was fatally injured.

Alva W. Gore, 49, of Rowland, N. C., was pronounced dead on arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was brought by Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company ambulance following the accident which occurred about 9:50 a. m. He died of a fractured skull.

Tie J. F. Browning of the Maryland State Police who investigated the fatal accident said Gore was driving alone in the truck which was headed west on U. S. Route 40.

The state trooper said that the driver apparently failed to put the heavily-laden vehicle into a lower gear to descend the western slope of the mountain.

The truck's brakes failed to hold and Gore lost control of the vehicle. It careened off the left side of the highway, tore out 10 guard rail posts, uprooted four trees, crashed into an embankment and overturned.

Gore suffered a crushed skull when he was thrown from the cab of his truck and pinned under part of the load of lumber which was scattered over the highway. He also had abrasions of the body and abrasions and deep lacerations of the face, Trooper Browning stated.

The scattered load of lumber delayed traffic only for a short period, Trooper Browning said. Passing motorists and area residents helped move the lumber and clear one lane for traffic.

Gore's body was taken to the George Funeral Home here.

Mr. Gore was born July 12, 1907, in Horry county, South Carolina, a son of the late Fletcher and Ella (Skipper) Gore. He had moved from Marion, S. C., to Rowland only a week ago and was driving for the Rowland Trucking Company.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mattie Mae (Chapman) Gore, and three children.

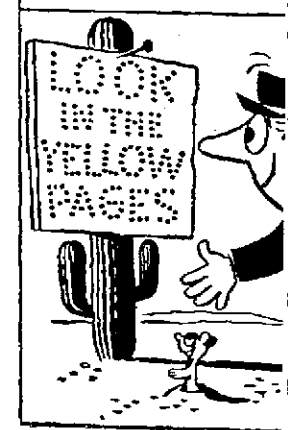

His body will be taken to the Smith Brothers Funeral Home at Marion, S. C., today.

Wisconsin Prison Policy Proves Good

MILWAUKEE (U)—Inmates at Wisconsin State Prison are rarely "put in solitary" anymore—instead they lose their radio earphones or other recreational privileges.

The system, according to Warden John Burke, is very effective. "We had a fellow who actually asked for 'solitary' instead of a 5-day loss of radio privileges," Burke said. "He didn't want to miss the weekend football games."

Tucker County Forestry Camp Highly Praised By Three Boys

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — One year ago three sullen faced boys stood before Intermediate Court Judge William J. Thompson.

His sentence: commitment to the State Forestry Camp at Blackwater Falls.

The boys, none more than 19 years old at the time, didn't seem too happy when the judge announced his decision.

Today the youths were again before Judge Thompson.

This time they were smiling and proud of their success.

All had been "Honor Boys" at the recently created camp for youthful criminals.

And the offenders had more than a new outlook to show for their year at the camp.

They also were in top physical condition.

Asked what he expected, and found, at the camp, Luther Lovejoy, 20, of St. Albans Ill. 1, replied:

"I thought there would be guys there with guns. I found it was a good place. You had a lot of privileges."

"They treat you more like men than criminals," joined in Buddy Eplin, 18, of St. Albans.

Gained 20 Pounds!

"The work wasn't too hard. They didn't expect more out of you than you could do," said Lovejoy who gained 20 pounds during the year.

Most of the time, the boys explained, was spent knapping rock for roads to the cabins and golf course at the state conservation commission resort near the camp.

"I thought it would be a bad place when I first went there. I found it was good and they treated you just as good as you would let them," explained Joseph Westfall, 18, of Sissonville Road.

Run Over By Truck

Eplin gained weight at first, but then fell off a ton-and-one-half truck which ran over him. No bones were broken, but the youth did spend some time in a hospital at Parsons and is just getting back into shape.

Asked what they thought might be done to improve the forestry camp, Westfall said it "couldn't be better."

"Anyone who has any ability at all can make a success at the camp," Eplin said.

All three of the boys were committed to the camp by Judge Thompson for "breaking and entering." Eplin and Lovejoy were with four others when they committed the crime.

The six went to the camp together and the other four escaped.

The escapees are at Mounts-ville and Eplin and Lovejoy today were placed on probation for two years, certain they will be useful citizens and proud of their camp records.

Local Sewage Treatment Plant Equipment Tested

Operating tests are being conducted on equipment for Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant. Mayor Roy W. Eves has announced.

Representatives of firms which supplied equipment, he said, were here last week inspecting the installation and starting up the machinery.

Water was circulated to test the operation of the equipment.

At the Everts Creek pumping station, the heating boiler was installed and checked, and tests were made on the operation of the heating system for the sludge pumping station.

Many other tasks were being completed by crews of the Moyer Brothers Company, Altoona, which has a $1,531,000 contract for the construction of the plant.

Workers were busy doing fine grading and sodding of slopes, painting sludge drying beds and completing plumbing work at the plant.

Other crews were completing concrete work and grading the area around the Everts Creek pumping station.

Completed last week was the installation of the coarse rack for the gate chamber of the main pumping station.

Roads serving the 10-acre site were being blacktopped.

Move Awaited On Closing Of City Crossing

$50,000 To Be Paid
By Railroad If Right
To Reopen Is Waived

The Mayor and Council will act next Monday on an ordinance to close officially the Williams Street crossing for which the B&O will pay $50,000 provided the city waives its right to reopen the crossing.

Council discussed the proposed ordinance today with City Attorney Thomas B. Finnan and William A. Gunter, attorney for the B&O.

The city by ordinance, provided for the crossing closing in connection with the B&O yard expansion project July 21, 1952. The crossing was actually closed March 6, 1953.

Close Crossing Forever

Gunter was at the pre-council and regular sessions today. During discussions it was brought out that the original agreement gave the city the right to reopen the crossing at any time. The ordinance, as proposed by the B&O, now would close the crossing forever.

It is felt another ordinance is needed because of this fact, in addition to the amount of money involved.

It was Finance Commissioner John J. Long who said he would suggest having the clause about reopening the crossing reviewed. He said "You never know what will happen," in asking a study of the section under which the city waives its rights.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan was assured by Gunter that "no strings" were attached to the $50,000 payment and that the Williams Street crossing is a part of the yard expansion program.

Gunter pointed out that terms of the proposed agreement come from Baltimore and he would check back there concerning the questions which had been raised. The $50,000 would go into the city's general fund since it is not dedicated to a specific purpose. The payment is being made to reimburse the city for a foot bridge which the B&O offered for pedestrian traffic but which the city ruled would be impractical.

Other Activity

In other action today: Council proposed an ordinance which provides for the closing of an unnamed alley from the south side of Sanford Street eastward from Gleason Street to the intersection with another unnamed alley. The closing was requested by Charles W. Valentine, of Ridgeley.

Referred to the Recreation Department for a report was an offer by Bert Caldera, of Mt. Savage, to stage a city fireworks display July 4. Such exhibitions have been held in the past and Keegan said the display should be held.

Council granted permission to Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW, to sell "Buddy Poppies" May 25 under jurisdiction of the Police Department.

Two bids were submitted on pipe requested by the Water Department for flood control purposes. Bidding was R. D. Wood Company, of Philadelphia, and the U. S. Pipe and Foundry Company, of Pittsburgh.

Council ordered checks issued to city employees Wednesday for the first two weeks of the month. Parking meter receipts the week of May 5 were $799.76 compared to $790.83 the week of April 28, an increase of $8.93, according to inspector Harry Whisner.

The water levels at Lake Gordon and Lake Koon are one inch above the crest of the spillway. C. L. Bromm, assistant superintendent of Everts Creek Water Company, said consumption for the week ending yesterday was 36,400,000 gallons compared to 31,300,000 the same period a year ago.

Old Bruce High Being Renovated

The Joseph Graciano Company of Pittsburgh has been awarded a contract to steam clean the brick exterior of the old Bruce High School at Westernport, according to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Webster said the company will also point up the coping and brick work. Over the years the structure has weathered to some extent and the outside improvement is being done prior to renovation of the interior.

The county school system plans to utilize the structure for an elementary school next year. The high school students transferred last month to a new $2,000,000 high school building.

The old high school building was surveyed last week by school officials to determine what had to be done to change it for use by elementary students.

Forest Fire Danger Rises In Maryland

The hot weather and lack of rain continues in Maryland and H. C. Buckingham, state forester, said the situation is fraught with danger.

Maryland needs a good rain now to alleviate the extreme danger of forest fires, Buckingham said.

Buckingham said two of the worst areas in the state are the Eastern Shore's pine forests, Maryland's most valuable timberland, and Garrett County, where ground moisture is at its lowest point in 10 years.

"The situation will grow worse until we get rain," the forester said. Only a chance of scattered showers in Western and Central Maryland was the discouraging word from the Weather Bureau.

Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, said farming is being hurt by the lack of moisture and lawns and garden crops are suffering. The heat wave caused a heavy traffic load over the weekend. Thermometers reached an official high of 87 degrees yesterday and the overnight low was 57 degrees. At noon today the temperature in downtown Cumberland was 88 degrees. There were partly cloudy skies.

The forecast calls for generally fair weather tomorrow and Wednesday with low temperatures ranging between 55 and 63 degrees. There will be some morning cloudiness and haze but it will be mostly sunny in the afternoon with warm and humid weather.

Some scattered afternoon or evening showers were predicted.

Business Men's Group Will Meet

The South Cumberland Business Men's Association will meet tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at Grace Methodist Church.

John J. Long, safety director of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, will speak on the program there.

Miss Carol Ann Boyle will present several vocal selections, according to Nelson W. Russler, program chairman.

Arnold Robertson, president, also announced that the board of directors will meet Tuesday, May 21 at 7:30 p. m. at Liberty Milk Company.

Two Youths Nabbed In Burglary Attempt

Two Bedford county boys were "caught in the act" yesterday when they attempted to burglarize a service station.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford said the boys are being held for action of juvenile detention authorities.

State Police said the boys entered the service station operated by Wayne Triplett on Route 30 Schellburg.

Triplett and his son observed the boys entering and followed them. The two youths ran out the back door, but one was apprehended and the other youth later turned himself in to the police.

Centre Street PTA Will Meet Thursday

The Parent-Teacher Association of Centre Street School will hold its final meeting of the year on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Dr. Leo H. Ley and Mrs. Jean Cioni, of the Allegany County Cancer Society, will speak on the newest methods of treating cancer.

The teachers will be in their classrooms at 7 p. m. for visitation, and the First and Second Grade mothers will be in charge of a bake sale.

Priest Scores Beck, Gabors In Talk Here

Scoring the American public for its calm acceptance of labor leaders of the type of Dave Beck and the headline-hunting Gabors and their 14 husbands, the Very Rev. Humphrey T. Connors, prior and novice master of the Carmelite Monastery at New Baltimore, Pa., speaking at the St. Patrick's Catholic Church Holy Name Society breakfast yesterday in the Social Center, urged the approximately 200 men attending the event to wage an unending fight against secularism.

Buchholtz Cites Savings In Rec Plan

Presents Recreation
Financial Proposal
To Mayor, Council

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz revealed his proposed recreation plan today and told the Mayor and Council it could result in a saving of $6,173 without changing the status of the recreation setup or eliminating any of the programs.

And he said if council combines parks and recreation under his department, it could result in savings of many more thousands of dollars.

His report included a breakdown of finances of the department and where money could be saved plus a chart showing the organizational setup with himself as the head. Finances were based on the period July 1, 1956, through March 31, 1957.

Under the Buchholtz plan would come an advisory and administrative setup. Under advisory would fall a recreation board, park board and sports council.

Under administrative would be the recreation director, an assistant and stenographer; three area supervisors, the Constitution Park supervisor plus maintenance workers; and small parks supervisor. Each area supervisor would have temporary workers and volunteers to conduct the various programs.

Director, Board Resign

The report is a result of Buchholtz's opposition to a re-organization plan worked out by former recreation director N. Gwynn Fletcher and the Recreation Board which, in recent weeks, has resigned because of delay in acting on its proposal. The original plan would have taken the Recreation Department out of the jurisdiction of the Street Department.

Among the savings cited by Buchholtz in his report is $3,548 in salaries for director and elimination of a program assistant and extra typists; several hundred dollars in travel allowances; $600 annually by reducing the number of playground directors; from $200 to $300 by reducing supervision of tennis and badminton classes; reducing the labor force to two or three instead of five to seven at a savings of approximately $500; elimination of a custodian at Penn Avenue field; saving $300 by reducing the number of checkers at Constitution Park pool and about $200 by eliminating the position of assistant manager at the park pool. The 1956-57 rec budget is $15,000.

Letter Submitted

The Buchholtz letter to council follows:

"Attached hereto you will find a list of the expenditures of the Recreation Department for the nine-month period from July 1, 1956 to March 31, 1957. Also attached is a copy of the Table of Organization that I proposed several weeks ago.

"You will note that we have those expenditures broken down in detail as nearly as possible, and in the outer column is the amount of money, namely, $5,173, that we are sure that we can save at the present time.

In other words, this is a minimum savings and we are quite confident that there will be further savings in large sums, however these reductions will come as the program progresses and we are able to see just where we can make further cuts in expenses.

"I think you will all agree that it is quite possible, not being closely acquainted with the activities of this department until recently, that we may have overlooked some things that could be eliminated or reduced, but you can rest assured that we are going to comb this over and over again so that we may trim the budget to the lowest possible dollar, in order that we may have every cent possible and still give the citizens and youth of our community a well-rounded, worthwhile recreation program.

"In looking over this attached list, it will be appreciated if you will note that we have not eliminated any of the present programs or activities. The program will remain in its present status even with the minimum savings of $5,173, which we quoted above. There are numerous details involved, and rather than attempt to enumerate them all here, I will be glad to go over them with any member of the Council or the Council as a whole, if you so desire. I would like, however, to point out one example to give you some idea of just what we have in mind."

Can Save On Salaries

He said that under "Summer Program Salaries, there will be a savings of $600 in salaries for playground directors, leaders, supervisors and handicraft specialists. In going over the summer program salaries, we have devised a new setup for leaders on the playgrounds. Actually, what it amounts to is that we are cutting down on some of the directors. Instead of two people, we are going to use one. If anyone were to make an inspection of some of these playgrounds, you would find that the attendance

Council Plans To Ask Delay Of Evictions

The Mayor and Council plans to ask the Housing Authority of Cumberland to delay eviction notices for residents of Grape Alley until certain families there are able to locate other dwellings.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz suggested the move today after William H. Shepard, 1015 Grape Alley, told council seven families with 28 children had been told they must vacate premises by the end of the month to make way for a third low-rent housing project. Shepard appealed for help in finding places to live.

Shepard recounted his own efforts to find living quarters and said he had met with no success. He said no one wants to move since the families there like the neighborhood and some are active in playground and other activities in that section.

Shepard raised the possibility of the city buying one or more of the larger buildings for sale in the city and renting them to those who must move from Grape Alley.

This, however, got a cool reception. Buchholtz said the city "is in no position to buy property and go into the real estate business."

On other matters council approved the following payments: $3.85 to William E. Smith, 1913 Frederick Street, as tax overpayment resulting from over-assessment on lots 73 and 74 on that street; and $8,256.42 to Moyer Brothers, Altoona, representing the twenty-sixth estimated partial payment for the sewage treatment plant.

Carl S. Bennett was named a probationary member of the Police Department effective May 2.

A lease with the federal government for the Naval Reserve Armory site on McKays Hill was approved.

Jury Verdict To Claimant

An Allegany County Circuit Court jury last week reversed the State Industrial Accident Commission in its ruling that a worker was injured due to intoxication.
The jury declared in its verdict reached after 15 minutes of deliberation that John William Mills, an employee of the Lake Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, was not hurt solely because of intoxication.
The commission, which had denied him benefits for injuries received at work, will get the

Flag At Half Staff On Memorial Day

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz has advised the Mayor and Council that arrangements have been made to fly the flag at half staff on Memorial Day, a custom, he said, which apparently has been overlooked in the past.
The commissioner made the comment after council received an invitation to participate in the parade and memorial services at Rose Hill Cemetery, sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion.
In the United States 37 million juveniles and adults are now enrolled in schools.

Finalists Named In Woodworking

Two finalists will compete for honors as the outstanding wood-working student among the Allegany County high school seniors, according to J. D. Lennholm, supervisor of vocational education. They are Harold W. Coburn, RD 1, Frostburg, an 18-year-old senior at Beall High School, and Richard Kirchner, Willowbrook Road, a 17-year-old Fort Hill High School student.
This is the fourth annual contest sponsored by Local 1024, Carpenters Union. The county winner gets an apprentice membership in the union. The contestants will be interviewed by the judges and samples of their woodworking ability will be inspected.

It has been more than 20 years since we've tried our hand at golf, but a local duffer, bitten by the bug this spring, makes the following interesting observations about the game:

That golf is a terrible game for the first 10 strokes, especially when you get 'em all on the first hole.

That golf is a great game the first time you find yourself putting for a birdie.

That golf is a silly game when your feet hurt after walking 18 holes in four hours.

That golf is great exercise for your feet and legs when you wear the right size socks and a good pair of golf shoes.

That your caddy should have sized home when he overclubs you on a par 3 hole.

That your caddy is the best bag-bearer around when the club he hands you puts you on the green.

That you never should have played a two dollar Nassau when you find yourself three down with two holes to go.

That you wished you had confidence and had doubled your bet now that you're three up with two holes to play.

That your partner talks to you only when he's playing well.

That you talk to your partner only when you're playing well.

That you are playing so well you hate to see the 18th hole.

That you are playing so poorly you're glad to see the 18th hole. That when you're in the rough it's better to lose a stroke by playing out to the fairway.

That you're going to close your stance next time to prevent those horrible sliding tee shots.

That you've decided to open your stance to prevent those horrible hook shots.

That next time it's better to practice a half hour before hurrying off the first tee.

Sports Keg Residue

Tommy Richards, the White Sox farmhand from Carlos, allowed only one hit in eight innings the other day in a Western League game between Colorado Springs and Albuquerque. . . But the former Beall High mound was hit for a Colorado pinch-batter and the contest went 21 innings before Albuquerque finally won, 5 to 3. . . There were 177 fielding chances during the game, but only one error. . . The number of innings established a modern record but was one short of the all-time league mark set by Wichita and Sioux City in 1911. . . The two clubs stranded a total of 39 base runners. . . Ed Parsons, the third sacker who was signed by the Phillies last June after his graduation from Fort Hill High School, found organized baseball a bit tough when he began the season with Olean (N. Y.) in the Pony League. . . Ed, showing signs of nervousness, went hitless in his first 11 times at the plate, but a talk with manager Paul Owens seemed to reassure him. . . One day last week at Erie, Parsons came into his own. . . The opposing hurler gave Olean fits with his fast ball, striking out 17, but two of the five bingles he surrendered were off the bat of Parsons. . . The manager got the other three. . . The following night Parsons went hitless but socked the ball on the nose every time up. . . The first time he just missed a prodigious home run, the ball curving out of the park foul. . . He belted the next pitch against the fence in left field but it was caught. . . The Erie shortstop came up with a sensational catch in the hole to take a line-drive single away from him and the next time Ed whacked a vicious liner to center that the Erie middle fielder picked off his shoe tops. . . Parsons has also been sparkling at third with his fielding. . . Television star Phil Silvers banged out two singles and a double as the cast of his "You'll Never Get Rich" program defeated the Production Crew, 4 to 1, in a softball game. . . Silvers, the slick Sgt. Bilko, played third base. . . Baseball's anti-polio lineup is complete with announcement by the major leagues that they'll observe National Baseball Polio Day on June 14. . . The minor leagues, semi-pro organizations and assorted "kid" programs also are cooperating. . . In case you wondered where Sid Bascy, the Nigerian featherweight contender, got that Irish first name, "Hogan," it's a corruption of his real name, Okan. . . Michigan State, which produced such fighters as Chuck Davey, Chuck Spieser and Kenny Lane, is abandoning boxing as a varsity sport. . . Too hard to find competition says athletic director Biggie Munn, who adds that it will continue to be stressed as an intramural sport.

LaSalle, Fort Hill Play Return Clash Tomorrow

Rivals Need Win To Stay Contenders In City Race

By JIM DAY

Times Scholastic Sports Editor

LaSalle High had its chances in the Allegany County Baseball League crushed last Friday in a 4-3 loss to Valley but the Explorers still have flickering ambitions in the city race.

Tomorrow the North Centre Streeters have their return joust with defending champion Fort Hill on the Sentinels' diamond. It's a "must-win" game for both clubs.

Campers Lead Race

The Sentinels have lost only once in eight games for the year but the setback was a costly one. Allegany dropped the Red Raiders from the unbeaten ranks last Monday, 7-6 in nine innings. That win showed the Campers in the front of the three-cornered city chess with a 2-0.

Also had beaten LaSalle, 10-9 in ten frames, previously. The Sentinels dumped LaSalle, 4-1. A loss for the Hilltoppers tomorrow would put the Campers in the position of needing only one win in their next two city clashes for the title.

A win for the Sentinels keeps them alive for a repeat as city champions while LaSalle must take its next two tilts and then hope for the Sentinels to knock over Alco in order to create a three-way deadlock for the championship.

Tomorrow's fray also is an important one for the Sentinels in the ACL with the piping charges of coach Bobby Cavanaugh holding onto a slim half-game lead over runnerup Valley. Fort Hill has won six of seven in loop action while the Black Knights have posted a 5-1 mark. LaSalle, after losing its first round, came back with three in a row but ran afoul of the Valley crew last Friday to practically drop out of contention.

The Knights will be host to Beall of Frostburg tomorrow at Barton while Allegany travels to Flintstone and Bruce of Westernport is invaded by Mt. Savage.

Play Sentinels Friday

Valley and Beall battled to a 3-3 tie in eight innings the first time they clashed and still have that contest to settle. The "Det-mold Comings" have a tough week coming up and the championship of the circuit could be decided in the next five days.

Valley and Fort Hill have their return meeting on Friday with the Sentinels being host. The winner of that one, providing both come through tomorrow, could go on to hold the top perch the rest of the way.

Allegany, in third place following the surprise 17-3 clobbering dished out by Bruce Friday, has won six of eight games with one of the triumphs being over Flintstone. The Aggies were trampled, 17-2, by the Campers in the first contest.

Bruce, with plenty of assistance, could still be in the race as the Bulldogs sport a .500 mark in eight starts. The record puts the Westernporters two-and-one-half games off the pace in the fourth slot.

Mt. Savage has been a disappointment this spring with the Indians showing but a solo victory in eight games. Bruce blanked 'Savage, 4-0, on a one-hitter by Donnie Wilkinson last month.

PVC Race Still In Doubt

There are only two undefeated clubs in the area and both are in the Potomac Valley Conference. Moorfield closes shop along with its chief threat, Elk Garden, on Wednesday.

The Jackets, with a 10-0 mark and 31 straight loop conquests since the closing stages of the 1954 campaign, will meet Romney on the Pioneers' diamond. The Stegs, with a 9-0 log, end with Southern of Oakland on the Elks' field. A win and loss for either decides the race.

Two games in the loop are on tap this afternoon with Keyser (18-2) listed for a clash against Southern (3-1) in Oakland while Paw Paw (4-3) was to take on Fort Ashby (0-8) on the Eagles' field. None of the other clubs in the PVC has a chance of bagging the title with Keyser in third place with its pair of losses.

Tomorrow, Romney (1-7) will meet its cross-town rival, West Virginia School for the Deaf (3-6), while Capon Bridge (8-3) is host to Wardensville (0-7) and Franklin (4-3) is at Circleville (2-6). Berkeley Springs has an out-of-the-loop tilt with Warfordsburg on the Indians' diamond.

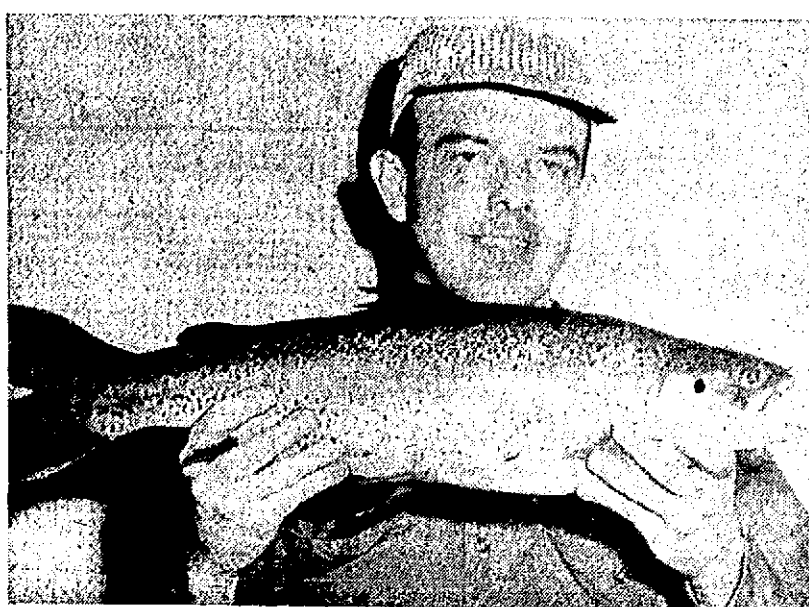

A's Ship Gene Host Out To Little Rock

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Cleveland Indians not only defeated Kansas City 4-1 Friday night, they clubbed rookie pitcher Gene Host right back to the minors in less than two innings.

The Athletics' front office announced today the young left hander had been shipped to Little Rock of the Southern Assn. on a 24-hour recall basis. The defeat Friday gave Host an 0-1 record on a basis of 13 innings work. His earned run average bulged at 5.53.

Trucks Works On Third Life As Mound Ace

By International News Service

Virgil Trucks must be at least one-third cat because he's working on his third life as a pitcher these days.

Up until 1953, Trucks was strictly a fire-balling hurler who tried to blaze his fast ball past every batter. When he lost a little of his steam, Trucks picked up a change-of-pace pitch and switched to mixing up his serves as a starter.

Last year, he reached the point where he couldn't go the distance very well because of his age.

Today, at 38, he is the most successful relief pitcher in baseball.

His latest success came yesterday when he shut out Cleveland for the final 3½ innings, enabling Kansas City to win, 4 to 2, and present him with the win. His record is 5-and-0 currently in the best in baseball.

The six-foot, 210-pound native of Birmingham, Ala., had one of baseball's greatest fast balls when he started his career with Andalusia of the Alabama-Florida League in 1938. He struck out the incredible total of 418 batters in 273 innings that year.

He was playing for the Detroit Tigers by 1941. He was in the Navy for two years but came back in time to win one game of the 1945 World Series.

His worst year record-wise was in 1952 when he was 5-and-19. It also was his best year in another sense because he hurled two no-hit games that year, against Washington in May and New York in August.

Robinson Cost Only $3,000 But Worth Million To Reds

By FRED DE LUCA

NEW YORK (AP)—For a player who cost only $3,000, Frank Robinson has been worth a million bucks to the Cincinnati Reds.

The 21-year-old slugger solved Cincinnati's age-old left-field problem in 1956 as a rookie.

place. Homers by Andy Carey and Mickey Mantle gave the New York Yankees a 4-0-3 win over Baltimore. Virgil Trucks won his fifth as Kansas City dumped Cleveland, 9 to 2, but the Indians took the nightcap, 7 to 4. Tom Brewer's two-hitter gave Boston a 10-to-0 win over Washington before the Senators evened matters by capturing the afterpiece, 6 to 2.

Low Burdette outthrew Murry Dickson to win the first Braves Cards game. Reliever Taylor Phillips won the second against Herm Wehmeier. Hawk Aaron hit two-run homers in each game to lift his roundtripper total to nine, tying him with Ted Williams for the most in the majors.

Ed Mathews also homered for the Braves, while Bobby Gene Smith and Don Blasingame connected for the Redbirds.

Podres allowed the Giants six hits and got the hitting support he needed when Brooklyn scored three off Pete Burnside in the first. Duke Snider homered later for the Braves.

Curt Simmons won the opener for the Phils with the aid of four straight hits by Willie Jones that bailed Luis Arroyo with the loss. Vern Law's pitching and lusty hitting by Dee Fondy and Bob Skinner accounted for the second game win over Robin Roberts.

Trucks Wins Fifth

Fischer replaced White Sox starter Jack Harshman in the second and allowed only four hits the rest of the way. Solo homers by Walt Dropo and Larry Doby off Detroit's Paul Foytack pulled the White Sox close and then Doby hit a three-run homer to put the Pale Hose in front to stay.

Carey hit two Yankee homers while Mantle's broke a 3-all tie in the eighth. Bob Grim won in relief and Skinny Brown lost.

By winning his fifth game, Trucks now has the best record in baseball. The ace reliever for Detroit, 5 to 4, and held on to first place.

White Sox Hold Lead

In the American League, relief pitching by Bill Fischer and hitting by Larry Doby enabled the Chicago White Sox to beat Detroit, 5 to 4, and hold on to first place.

The Brooklyn Dodgers snapped a four-game losing streak beat Johnny Podres' hurling as they beat the New York Giants, 5 to 0. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh split a pair, the Phils taking the 6-0-2 opener and the Pirates ending a seven-game losing streak in the 6-0-1 second match.

Italian Auto Race Claims Lives Of 13

BRESCIA, Italy (AP)—The fiery red Ferrari of Spanish playboy millionaire Marquis Alfonso de Portago sent 12 persons to their death, including himself and his American driving companion, as it hurtled into crowds lining the route of the Mille Miglia auto race near Mantua yesterday.

Later in the day, the race claimed its 13th victim as Dutch driver Josef Goetgens' car skidded on wet pavement near Florence and spun into a road guard. He died of a fractured skull.

De Portago's powerful 3,800 c.c. car was hurtling at 150 miles an hour when it blew a tire and careened wildly to the side of the road, crushing the two occupants and instantly killing 10 spectators. Several others were injured.

Eddy Nelson Co-Driver

De Portago was the estranged husband of the former Carol McDaniel of Greenville, S. C. His widow and their two children left New York's International Airport and were expected here late tomorrow.

Edmund (Eddy) Nelson, a native of Beloit, Wis., was the co-driver. He lived with his wife in Paris, but she had been in New York for the past month so their 2-year-old son could undergo an operation on his leg. She also left by plane early today for Paris, where her husband's body was being shipped.

The toll boosted to 18 the number of fatalities in the race in the last two years and newspapers immediately predicted new demands would be made in the Italian Parliament to cancel the classic. The Mille Miglia has been the last big open road race in Europe since the Le Mans race was dropped after the 90-death tragedy in 1955.

Guns Car To Catch Up

This year's race was approved only after officials pledged strict enforcement of safety regulations. Curves along the route were banked with straw bales, police were stationed along the road to hold back crowds, and the entries cut nearly in half—from 600 to 350.

De Portago, internationally known in bobsledding as well as auto racing, was running in third place behind Piero Taruffi of Italy, the eventual winner, and Wolfgang von Tripps of Germany.

He had been informed of his standing during a brief stopover at Mantua and gunned his flaming-red car at maximum speed in an attempt to overtake the leaders.

Casey Impressed By Birds' Boyd

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel was in a thankful mood yesterday after his New York Yankees came from behind for the second straight day to edge the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles 4-3.

"This Baltimore club is hustling good and the boys are putting out all the way," he said. "You couldn't easy win all three games, for which I'm happy that you didn't."

And Casey had this capsule sum-up of Oriole first baseman Bob Boyd, the team's leading hitter with a .328 average:

"This Boyd feller is a pretty good little hitter, a hard man to play. He hits 'em early and he hits 'em late, and he hits 'em every which way."

"This Baltimore club is hustling good and the boys are putting out all the way," he said. "You couldn't easy win all three games, for which I'm happy that you didn't."

And Casey had this capsule sum-up of Oriole first baseman Bob Boyd, the team's leading hitter with a .328 average:

"This Boyd feller is a pretty good little hitter, a hard man to play. He hits 'em early and he hits 'em late, and he hits 'em every which way."

Casey Stengel was in a thankful mood yesterday after his New York Yankees came from behind for the second straight day to edge the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles 4-3.

"This Baltimore club is hustling good and the boys are putting out all the way," he said. "You couldn't easy win all three games, for which I'm happy that you didn't."

Recurring Headaches Block Kell's Return To Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Here's the latest report on "the hospital list of the Baltimore Orioles:

1. The return to action of the veteran George Kell has been delayed by recurring headaches and dizziness, he was scheduled for a complete neurological examination today.

2. Shortstop Willie Miranda, out with torn and strained ligaments in his left knee and ankle, can move about without the aid of crutches. He may not play until the end of the week.

3. Rookie third baseman Brooks Robinson is recovering from his operation of two weeks ago to correct a torn cartilage in his right knee. Dr. Erwin Mayer, Oriole club physician, said Robinson "should be playing in another month."

4. Another promising youngster, 19-year-old shortstop Ronnie Hansen, is due to undergo surgery this week to correct a ruptured disc condition in his back.

Kell, 34-year-old veteran, was beamed in Detroit last Monday and suffered a mild concussion. Dr. Mayer said his symptoms were common following a concussion, but scheduled the new examination "as an extra precautionary measure."

Hansen consented to his operation after thinking the matter over for about three weeks. His parents have given their oral approval and the operation will proceed.

Rory Calhoun And Giardello Clash Friday

By International News Service
The twice-postponed middleweight bout between Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., and Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, highlights this week's television fight program.

Calhoun, fourth-ranked contender, is seeking to rise higher in the 160-pound class at the expense of the veteran Giardello, who is ranked seventh.

The ten-round (NBC) is scheduled for Cleveland arena on Friday night.

Twice Postponed
The fight was scheduled for April 16, but Giardello suffered an eye injury and it was postponed. Calhoun suffered a blood clot in training for a fight between the pair last December 14 and that bout was postponed.

The 22-year-old Calhoun has won 27 of 38 bouts, 15 by knockouts. His only loss was to Spider Webb.

Giardello has 68 wins in 87 bouts and has scored 24 knockouts.

Walters Open Card
A couple of young welterweights with imposing records open up the week's activity to night (Dumont) in a ten-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Tony Dibiase, an NYU student with a record of 19 wins in 20 fights, takes on Jimmy Archer of the Bronx, who has won 13 out of 14 bouts.

Ninth-ranked middleweight Bobby Boyd of Chicago meets Willie Vaughn of Hollywood Park, Calif., in a ten-round bout (ABC) Wednesday night at Chicago. Vaughn is subbing for Rocky Castellani who bowed out because of a bad eye.

'Savage, Hyndman Score; Lewis Hurls Third Triumph

At the rate pitcher Tommy Lewis is picking up victories for Mt. Savage in the Pen-Mar Baseball League the mound mainstay of the Old Germans will wind up with a 28-0 log when the season closes in early September.

The Brewers racked up their third victory without a loss yesterday with an 8-5 decision over Flintstone before Mt. Savage fans. Again it was Lewis who notched the triumph—his third without a setback.

Second Relief Triumph
The durable hurler came in for relief work the second time and picked up his second game-saving triumph. Last week, against Hyndman, he started, went the distance and bagged a 7-3 decision against the "Zippers".

In the opener three weeks ago he relieved Ralph Diehl in the ninth with two out, halted Centerville's rally and picked up his first victory.

Yesterday Lewis came on in the scene in the third after Don Hansel and Jim Wilson failed to halt the winless Farmers who had moved in front, 2-2, with a three-run third frame. Lewis went on to twist five innings of shutout ball before Flintstone came up with a pair of rallies in the top of the ninth.

The Brewers quickly gave Lewis a working margin after the third by punching across three runs in the sixth and three more in the eighth. Lewis gave up four hits, walked only one and struck out seven. Bill Haberling worked the distance for Flintstone and lost his third without a win.

Ken Johnson socked a triple and a pair of singles for the Brewers while Doug Sullivan of the winners and Dwight Morris and Harry Herten of the Farmers had two hits each.

Dorell Kline, Mt. Savage first baseman, suffered a fractured left elbow when struck by a ball thrown by a teammate in the second inning. Kline, who also plays with Frostburg State College, was treated at Miners Hospital.

Hyndman Also Wins
Hyndman set the stage for its clash against Mt. Savage this Saturday by racking up its third victory in as many games. The Pennsylvanian shellacked Jack Brodie and Zihlman, 12-8, at home. They met Mt. Savage at Hyndman Saturday afternoon.

Hyndman tore into Brodie for 14 hits while Bob See limited the Zippers to five safeties to bag his first triumph. He fanned three and issued a pair of walks.

Johnny Walman and Clay Leydig sparked the Pennsylvanians with three hits each. One of Leydig's hits was a two-bagger.

Twelve Hyndman players went to bat in the sixth frame during a rally that produced seven runs. Two of Zihlman's runs came on the circuit belts by Harold Hudson and Rickey Harris. Denny Shuck broke 86 out of 100 targets. Summary:

Gallant Man Definitely Out Of Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—With Gallant Man definitely out of the Preakness, Bold Ruler holds the Pimlico stage today to start a week's buildup for Saturday's $100,000-added classic.

Despite word from owner Ralph Lowe that Gallant Man would not be shipped to Pimlico, there remained more uncertainty than usual about the field. Still a doubtful starter was Gen. Duke, Calumet stablemate of Derby winner Iron Liege.

Bold Ruler, a disappointing Derby fourth, will sport blinkers and be allowed to run his own race in the prep this afternoon. Jockey Eddie Aguero tried rating him in the Derby.

Running with Bold Ruler will be George Thompson's Inseper and Mrs. Janon Fisher's Convey. There will be no betting on the prep, which is an eighth of a mile shorter than the mile-and-three-sixteenths Preakness.

Iron Liege is the forgotten prospective starter in the Preakness. This situation will prevail until word is forthcoming on Gen. Duke. The impression is strong around Pimlico that trainer Jimmy Jones will decide—perhaps tomorrow—to keep Gen. Duke out of the Preakness as he did the Derby.

The fact that Iron Liege filled the Derby bill without help lends more weight to such a move. There doesn't seem to be much wrong with Gen. Duke's foot at present, but there's a lot of racing ahead including the triple crown climax, the Belmont Stakes next month.

Chapell Hill, N. C., Maryland Track Coach Jim Kehoe, already wet from a day-long rain that turned the Preakner Field track into a muddy mess, received a final soaking from his celebrating charges who threw him into a nearby swimming pool.

The happy Terps were observing their winning the Atlantic Coast Conference track title Saturday for the second year in a row and third time in its four-year history.

Maryland won 7 of the 15 events, but there was glory to go around as there were four individual double winners.

Dave Scurlough, lanky North Carolina sophomore, won the Robert A. Felzer award as the outstanding performer in a vote of the coaches. He took the 440, 880 and anchored the winning mile relay team.

Other double winners were Duke's Dave Sims in the 100 and 220; Burr Grim of Maryland in the mile and two-mile, and Maryland's Ed Cooke in the shot put and discus.

Outstanding performances saw Sims run the 100 in .09.8, missing his own mark by one-tenth, and Grim take the two-mile in 9:25.8, only five-tenths off the record.

Maryland piled up 83½ points to 47½ for runnerup North Carolina.

did not warrant two people, or even warrant the specific type of program, so in cutting down on some of these programs, naturally we can cut down on personnel.

The example is the Centre Street Playground. Last year they employed a director and a playground leader, at a combined salary of $260 for two months, July and August. This year, there will be one playground director at a salary of $110, (a savings of $150). The program on this playground will be reduced. It will not hurt the children there who utilize the facilities in this area because it has been noted that the morning attendance was excellent; in the afternoon it was very poor, so we are going to discontinue the afternoon program and will be open again in the evening for movies or special activities.

"We will use the same map comprising the three areas as originally proposed by the former recreation director. There will be two area supervisors for the summer months only, and the third area supervisor will be a full time, year-round man, and after he has completed his summer duties he will supervise all three areas, combining basketball and other winter activities for the winter months.

Other Savings Possible—"All of the things that I have spoken about up to now, as you know, pertain to the recreation appropriation only, and if you are to combine under my proposal, the Parks and Recreation, we will be able to make a much greater savings in the combined activity. Frankly, it could result in the savings, I am sure, of many more thousands of dollars. However, it is one of those things with which we will have to experiment and make reductions wherever possible without detracting from the efficiency of the operation as a whole. As a matter of fact, I feel that if this is watched very closely, we could affect a savings of several cents on the tax rate and not disturb the present program.

"The proposal I am making in respect to the consolidation of the Parks and Recreation Departments is based on the responsibilities vested in the elected officials of the commission form of government. As to whether this is the proper form of government for the City of Cumberland is not a matter of discussion in this proposal. The fact remains that certain duties and responsibilities are required of the elected officials, and it is not my intention to avoid that responsibility in any respect. Therefore, the chart that has been prepared for the Recreation Department places the responsibility of that department fully on my shoulders.

Favors Advisory Board—"I believe that a board appointed in an advisory capacity can be very helpful to the elected administrative official, and to the director of recreation. As the charter of the city places the responsibility for the appropriation of that department in my hands, it is important that the expenditures for that purpose pass through my hands for my approval.

"I sincerely believe that I can work with any board which the State Youth Drowns in Cacapon River—BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., (AP) — Robert Smith Jr., 16, of Chevy Chase, Md., drowned Saturday in the Cacapon River near Great Cacapon, nine miles west of here in Mineral county.

The youth was fishing in a boat with Elmo Stotler when he fell into the water and didn't come up. Stotler, who lives in Great Cacapon and works in Washington, recovered the body.

The water was about 10 feet deep where Smith drowned.

Council may see fit to appoint, and I would request that in the appointment I be made an ex-officio member of the board, as well as the chief of police and the juvenile magistrate. Thereby any of the problems which arise in regard to the program can be worked out in accordance with the monies provided and the policies set forth.

"I am not familiar with the legal end of this program as to what orders, ordinances, etc., are necessary to put this into effect, however, as I said before, our plans will cover the consolidation of parks and recreation along the general lines, (with some modification and changes), as proposed by our former recreation director, and at the time of consolidation we will make the necessary proposals for changes in personnel that we feel may be necessary in order that this program be carried out in a very efficient, economic and business-like manner.

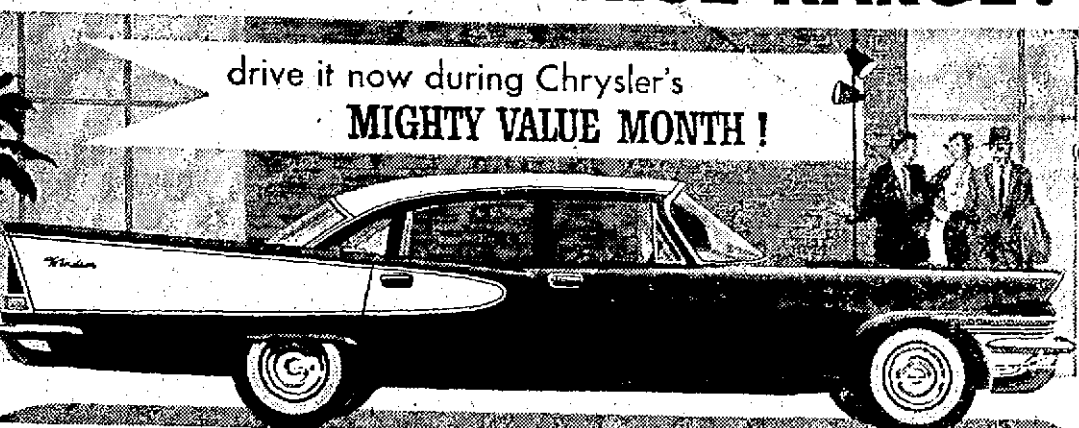

"Hoping you will give this your very sincere and earnest consideration at an early date, and if there are any further questions or details we shall be glad to furnish them upon request."

The calls that aren't made mean a lot to us

I suppose if anyone asked my husband and me what we like most about telephone service we'd say it's the calls that aren't made.

Here's what we mean. We have two youngsters, Butch 5 and Joan 3. They're too young to leave alone, of course. So, like thousands of other couples, we get a baby sitter when we go out. She keeps an eye on the children and phones us if anything goes wrong. We feel we're almost as close to the kids as if we were at home.

And it's these phone calls, the ones that aren't made because there's nothing wrong, that mean so much to us. Just that silent phone tells us that Butch and Joan are all right. We can enjoy the evening without worrying about the kids.

Like everyone else, we use our phone a lot, but even if we never made a call all month long our phone would be well worth the cost. We can't think of anything else that adds so much to our peace of mind for a few nickels a day.
